

Workshop for Women in Probability

Cornell University, October 5-7 2008

Scientific Program:

organized by Lea Popovic (Concordia)
and Amber Puha (San Marcos)

Invited Speakers:

Nina Gantert (Muenster)
Masha Gordina (Connecticut)
Elena Kosygina (Baruch)
Elizabeth Meckes (Case Western)
Tai Melcher (Virginia)
Kavita Ramanan (Carnegie Melon)
Deena Schmidt (Ohio State)
Anja Sturm (Delaware)
Ruth Williams (UC San Diego)
Anita Winter (Erlangen)

Women probabilists, especially young researchers and advanced graduate students are invited to participate. Please visit www.math.cornell.edu/durrett/wwp to register, submit an abstract, and apply for local support. This conference is supported by an NSF Research Training Grant awarded to the probability group at Cornell, so preference will be given to supporting US citizens, nationals, and permanent residents. Questions about local arrangements can be addressed to the local organizer, Rick Durrett: rtd1@cornell.edu.